A Card.

WE will at once rebuild our warehouse, and will have it completed by the 15th of September, but by the first day of that month we will be ready to receive goods on store.

The sheds will be divided into fire proof compartments by brick walls, and covered with tin. Those who have patronized us for the last two seasons, and those who may have proposed to do so the approaching one, may rest assured we will be ready for them.

We design establishing a Cotton Compress in connection with our warehouse, upon an adjacent lot, which will be ready by the 1st of October or sooner. The proximity of our establishment to the river renders the handling of cotton so convenient that we can transfer cotton for shipment by river free of drayage. The advantage of the position is equal to one drayage on all cotton sent or compressed from other warehouses, while on all cotton in our warehouse for compressment there can be two drayages saved, since it would be as easy for us to transfer it from our shed to the Compress as to turn it out in the ordinary way for transfer by dray's

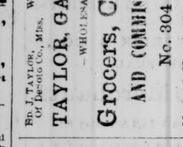
FASSMAN'S IRON TIES
—FOR—
COTTON BALES.



THE undersigned have made extensive arrangements to supply the demand for these Ties the present season.

In addition to the FASSMAN IRON TIE and BUTTON TIE, so extensively used heretofore, they now offer his ALLIGATOR Tie, with teeth so arranged as to instantly clamp the hoop when the pressure is removed from the bale, and hold it without slipping.

Great pains have been taken to secure the best quality of iron.

These Ties are so simple in their arrangement that they can be applied by any one, to bales of any size, with the same facility and expedition as rope. In strength, security and facility of application, they will compare favorably with any yet introduced.

The advantages of Iron Ties are now generally recognized; but it is deemed not out of place to call the attention of those interested to the very emphatic recommendation of Inner writers, steamboat Captains, and Owners and Agents of Sea Steamers and Sailing Vessels, recently published in the newspapers in New Orleans.

Our Latest Improved
NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.
GROVESTEEN & CO.,
499 Broadway, N. Y.

THESE Instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the First Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the several music rooms of this city, pronounce them the FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has on account of our policy during the thirteen years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The use of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness does not destroy the treble and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equa ly delightful to the unpractised and to the cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners fully carved and beautifully carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep5 dawly

GENERAL ITEMS.

—Earl Russell's son, now traveling in this country, is the smallest man in the house of commons.

—John C. Breckinridge, tired of the hubbub of the Paris exposition, has gone to Switzerland.

—The public schools of New Haven, Conn., cost last year $100,000, and next year's expenses is estimated at $80,000, of which $68,200 will be paid in salaries.

—An enterprising firm in Philadelphia has constructed a private telegraph line to New York, for the especial accommodation of a few large business establishments in that city.

—A man in Connecticut has cleared his house of rats by catching one and dipping him in red paint. He then let him loose, and the other rats left, disgusted by his appearance.

—The Yazoo (Miss.) Banner says that a conservative negro—Dan Woolridge by name—will be a candidate for congress in that district.

—Miss Nellie Marshall, daughter of Gen. Humphrey Marshall, of Kentucky, is ruralizing in Beechland, her father's splendid farm in Henry county, engaged on a war novel.

—The new constitution of New York will not be submitted to the people at the coming election. The radicals fear it will be rejected. The convention has adopted a section that no state debt shall be contracted without a law especially designating the debt proposed. A proposition to move the capital to New York city was defeated.

—The New Orleans Crescent of the 21st ult. says: It may now be safely assumed that no important cotton growing locality in the south has escaped the visitation of the army worm. The only mitigating feature of this fact is that the general ravage was delayed until at least a goodly portion of the cotton bolls had either opened for picking or attained a sufficient growth to set the worm at defiance.

—The secretary of the treasury is reported to be maturing a plan which, it is claimed, will bring about specie payments in five years. It is said to contemplate the retirement of all the national bank notes with the substitution of greenbacks as the sole currency of the country, and, it is alleged, meets the approval of the bankers and financial men to whom it has been submitted.

—The Missouri Democrat, one of the most wildly radical journals in America, says to its readers: "Look to your registry, for they may be needed before the snow falls." Does this mean that the radicals will inaugurate revolution if the democracy are successful in the election? If so, this crazy editor had better look to his need, for it may be broken by democratic hands before the snow falls.

—A story is told about the late W. Hope, the banker, of Amsterdam, that he had bought a picture as a Rembrandt and given 2000 guineas for it. Finding that it did not quite fit the frame, he sent for a carpenter to ease it a little. Whilst watching the operation, he remarked how wonderfully the picture was preserved, considering that it was nearly two hundred years old. "That is impossible," said the carpenter, "for this wood is mahogany, and mahogany had not been introduced into Europe at that time." Mr. Hope burnt the picture.

—The New York Evening Post speaks of a piece of property of 400 acres in Jersey City, bought sixty years ago for $20,000. Two years ago this property was offered for $600,000, without buyers. A part was subsequently sold for $3,000,000, and the remainder was estimated three years ago to be worth nearly $3,000,000. It would now readily bring $8,000,000.

—The Nashville Banner says a company of militia straggled by the St. Cloud hotel while Gen. Thomas was sitting in front on Friday evening, and gave him a feeble cheer. He took no notice of them whatever, not even a wave of the hand.

—A dispatch from Oregon states that Lieut. Small, 1st United States cavalry, fought and defeated a band of Snake Indians near Lake Albert. The same band had lately defeated Gen. Cook's friendly Indians. After the first charge the Snakes made for a swamp, but the troops dismounted and fought waist deep in water. Twenty-six warriors with their chief were killed and fifteen were taken prisoners. None of the soldiers were hurt.

—The mayor of Mobile fined a negro girl ten dollars for kissing a white child, or "a nasty little reb," as it was put up in the charge.

—A card has been published by thirty women of Alabama and their children, stating that they are suffering for the necessaries of life and can get no work.

—The negroes of Louisiana say they will not work any more for either wages or a part of the crop—that they have got papers in their pockets that votes them land, and they are going to have it.

—An old lady announced in court at Atlanta that she "had no counsel," that "God was her lawyer." "My dear madam," replied the judge, "He does not practice in this court."

—A radical of the Thad. Stevens and Ben. Wade stripe, out in Iowa, lately expressed himself as follows in a speech: Gentlemen: The war is not yet over. To-day there is an hundred thousand armed men in the south, ready at the first opportunity to devastate the north." "Yes" he continued, waxing eloquent, "yes, fathers, you may well think of your home to be made desolate by the ruthless invaders. You may think of your families to be outraged; of your hard earnings destroyed. Yes, mothers, you may well hug your little infants to your bosoms. Unless congress is sustained it won't be long before your dwellings are dashing their brains out. The Mississippi river will run blood instead of water. The bright cedar will be crimson with your gore; the—the—Dutch, gentlemen, will join them and hold a high carnival on the blood. Beware, I say, beware! Don't vote for Huested—he is the chief of the golden circle, and was in close communication with Jeff. Davis. Vote for Benson for county judge."

—A love-lorn poet thus gives vent to his feelings:

Would I were a court-plaster—I would be
A patch upon her lip,
And spend my life in ecstacy,
And sip, and sip, and sip.

Were I a pair of spectacles,
How dearly would I prize
A situation on her nose,
To ogle her eyes.

—A story is told of a "country gentleman," who, for the first time, heard an Episcopal clergyman preach. He had read much of the aristocracy and pride of the church, and when he returned home he was asked if the people were stuck up. "Pshaw! no," he replied, "why the minister actually preached in his shirt sleeves!"

—Another effort is to be made to raise the Confederate ram Merrimac from the bed of the Elizabeth river, where she has remained an obstruction to navigation ever since her sudden demise soon after the famous combat with the Monitor. All her guns, anchors, chains, etc., have been removed by the wreckers in the employ of the government. All the attempts to blow up the hull have thus far failed. The wreckers have secured the iron prow, and are advertising it for sale as a curious relic worthy of a place in some collection of rarities.

—Some graceless wag among our exchanges perpetrates the following harmless pun upon the name of our state capital, under the dominion of Czar Brownlow: From the fight—political, personal and otherwise—raging incessantly in Nashville, the capital of Tennessee, that place should be termed Gnashville.

The Effects of the Bankrupt Law.

The New York World thus alludes to the operation of the bankrupt law in that city:

The enactment of a bankrupt law has had a somewhat different effect upon the fortunes of merchants and traders who had failed than was expected. It was supposed that as there was known to be great numbers of people who could not go into business because of their unliquidated indebtedness, that, as a consequence, there would be a great rush of bankrupts to take advantage of the new law. As has not so turned out, though, undoubtedly, when the full terms of the courts commence we will see a much larger number of bankrupts put through the legal mill than was the case this summer. Instead of taking advantage of the law to free themselves from their obligations by being declared bankrupts, the delinquent and unfortunate traders are "settling" with their creditors. For one person who makes application to the courts, there are twenty who privately come to an understanding with their creditors. This has been done to so great an extent that throughout the country thousands of old merchants will re-enter business this fall and winter. The law allows practically of three modes of settlement—the voluntary and involuntary bankruptcies of insolvent debtors, or a compromise without legal proceedings, and this is what is now going on all over the country. The effect cannot but be good. Hundreds of energetic men will again find their way into business, and thousands of families will be relieved from the burden of old debts. The law so far seems to have worked well.

Impeachment.

Senator Howard has written a letter to the Detroit Tribune, in which he asserts that military preparations are being made in Maryland and other border states to protect President Johnson from impeachment, but that congress will do its duty in spite of these military preparations.

Dry Tortugas.

Of four hundred prisoners at the Dry Tortugas, one hundred are sick with the yellow fever. Dr. Mudd is rendering medical assistance to the sufferers, among whom is the commanding officer of the post and the hospital surgeon.

PROPHECY.

Mr. CALHOUN once said, in words truer than those of the ancient Oracles:

The blacks and the profligate whites that might unite with them, would become the principal recipients of the federal office and patronage, and would in consequence be raised above the whites of the south in the political and social scale. We would, in a word, change conditions with them—a degradation greater than has yet fallen to the lot of a free and enlightened people, and one from which we could not escape should emancipation take place (which it certainly will, if not prevented), but by fleeing the homes of ourselves and our ancestors, and by abandoning our country to our former slaves, to become the permanent abode of disorder, anarchy, poverty, misery and wretchedness.

Upon which a Georgia correspondent of a northern journal says: Three months ago a decided majority of the white people of the south had made up their minds to accept the congressional reconstruction plan, bitter as the pill was, and to reorganize their state governments in obedience to what they understood to be its commands; now it is seldom one meets with a white man who can write his own name, or who pays taxes on one hundred acres of land, who will have anything to do with it. Do you ask what has produced this change? It has been wrought by the action of congress at its late extra session, and by the harsh and arbitrary conduct of Sheridan, Pope and Sickles, who, instead of being content with executing the laws of congress, became the partisans of radicalism and aspirants for its honors. Is this language too severe? What then shall be said of the administration of Gen. Pope, who, without sufficient cause being assigned, orders the arrest and imprisonment of the most peaceable citizens; who refuses to allow the annual appropriation to the oldest college in this state to be paid, because a member of the last graduating class make a speech which one of his (Pope's) southern admirers (an original secessionist, by the way,) did not like; who orders the judges of the courts, in violation of the laws of the state, to constitute their juries indiscriminately of white men and black; who forbids officers of courts to publish their legal notices in those papers indicated by the law, but orders them to send them to radical sheets from one hundred to three hundred miles distant, thus vitiating the whole proceeding and creating fresh litigation; and who, in all disputes between a white man and a negro, and between a gentleman and a white loyal leaguer, who is generally worse than a negro, invariably takes the side of the latter, even when the latter had been a noisy secessionist and the former a unionist all through the war?

No, the folly of congress and the severity and want of experience in civil matters of the military commanders have done more to array the whites of the south against the reconstruction policy of congress than all other causes combined. The people desire peace. They have kept the pledge they made when they laid down their arms. They have lost everything but their lives, and these they would yield up as a sacrifice rather than see their country Africanized and all the horrors of St. Domingo re enacted in these southern states. Are they not right?

Every word of this is true; and the people of the North are beginning to understand and be alarmed at the condition of things in the South—the apathy of the whites, the disposition to emigrate, and the accursed consequences of negro domination. The only hope for the South is in an utter rout of Radicalism in the North; and of that there is at length a reasonable hope.

LIFE INSURANCE.

The New York Tribune contains the following sensible remarks on life insurance. We are doing our readers a service in directing their attention to it:

We believe it to be strictly true that the business of life insurance could be increased twenty fold by using the right means of attracting the public. The benefits conferred by the system are too little known, and yet they are as important as they are obvious. A policy of insurance is at once an investment at a high rate of interest and an available security in may transactions. It represents a sum of money, realizable in case of the insured party's death, often larger than could be accumulated by the savings of many years, and certainly larger than the premiums would aggregate if simply placed out at even compound interest. If the death be premature the amount is payable at once, and the outlay to secure it may be very trifling. The man who has provided against the contingency of his early decease has done a simple act of prudence and justice which will be a source of mental comfort to himself, and regarded by his family as a proof of his wise affection for them. Should he desire a provision for his old age, he can, by a plan common with many companies, enter upon an annual income at a specified date, if he makes an annual payment up to that time. Should he wish an endowment for his daughters, he can avail himself of a method whereby such endowment will become due. In short, there are, in the very numerous and valuable developments of life insurance, safeguards against disaster to children and widows, and means by which many benefits can be realized even during the life of the insured.

Of the manner in which the great truths and benefits of insurance shall be best, made known, much may be said. There are many agents, but how are they selected, and how many of them are zealous in the representation of their principals? There are prospectuses, but how much ability do they display in setting forth reasons for fleeing from the dangers of neglecting it? There is some advertising, but how much of it is striking and effective? And then the theory of insurance is unfamiliar to a large proportion of society. It is not seen that a thousand men may combine to pay a small sum yearly, or at shorter periods, toward a fund out of which the survivors of each member may at his death be paid a certain fixed sum; nor that the number who will die is fixed by the law of averages so that a strict calculation can be made if the basis of the calculation be large enough. Many people who now regard an insurance company as they would a merely speculative corporation, which may deceive them or fail, would, if they knew how certain the results of insurance are, and that there is no speculation in it, have the faith which would attract them to its doors. This popular education may be extended very much, and should be. We should like to see balance-sheets with statements plain and easily followed, and that companies endeavor to gain customers by offering to the public some training by which their soundness may be proved, and their liberality explained.

Yellow Fever in Mobile.

The Mobile Times of yesterday morning says: The official report of the board of health for the twenty-four hours ending last evening, shows a slight increase, it being five cases, but none fatal. This increase is owing to the prevalence of the northern winds, blowing regularly from and after sundown. This should make our citizens more and more careful to abstain from keeping late hours, sitting up at night on their galleries, and sleeping with open windows.

Under garments of worsted should be worn day and night, and refreshing drinks used freely. Should, however, any premonitory symptoms manifest themselves, consisting of violent headache, pain in the back, such as is known as "lumbago," and a certain degree of costiveness, the first thing to be done is to send for the doctor, and, while waiting for him, take a very hot mustard foot bath, get into bed warmly covered, and try to procure a warm perspiration.

If medical assistance should not promptly arrive, let a light purgative—principally citrate of magnesia, or seidlitz water, be taken, and if the stomach should refuse it 1 tea-spoon dose, administer it in teaspoonful. Also a lemonade, strongly acidulated, and to which cassia imparts a pleasant and slightly purgative virtue. These first precautions being taken, let the patient wait for the doctor, and keep up his spirits, as there is no real cause of alarm in these first symptoms, if properly and rapidly combated.

Numerical Errors.

"Why, captain, you appear to have a very bad cold" "Yes, madam," said the captain, who is fond of working in his garden early in the morning in his shirt sleeves, "I suppose I deserve it. I caught it while breaking the seventh commandment last Sunday." The party, male and female, started and looked blank; and the lady who had brought the remark said, as she tittered a kind fit of laughter would let her, "Well, upon my word, captain, considering the unusual circumstance of the case, and your present surroundings, it was hardly necessary for you to enter so much into particulars." When the innocent captain got home, he found, to his dismay, that the seventh commandment does not say, "Thou shalt remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

[WESTERN ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS.]

WASHINGTON, October 3.—The branch mint at Charlotte, N. C., is soon to be put in full operation for assaying purposes, and it is represented that working operations have been recommenced. Receipts of gold of this mint are on the increase, not only from localities in North Carolina, but from contiguous states.

A seam of pure anthracite coal, over thirty feet deep, has been discovered in Russian America, and traced for a mile near a good harbor. Oak and fir timber are abundant.

It has been determined that all applications for a special modification of the recent bonded warehouse negotiations, shall be considered and determined in the office of the secretary of the treasury instead of the office of internal revenue.

RICHMOND, October 3.—Congressman Shanks, of Indiana, addressed an assembly of blacks last evening. He spoke as one of a party who had the power when he said the southern states would have been in the union long ago if they had given the blacks their rights, and they never would get in until they did. President Johnson, if guilty, would be impeached; and even with his aid the Maryland and rebel militia, which was around, would be powerless to do anything. The men of the north were ready at the tap of the drum to quell him and his militia. He predicted 30,000 majority in Ohio for the republicans.

ROSEVILLE, October 3.—A dispatch from Charles Dickens to Ticknor & Field, definitely announces that he will come to this country to give a series of readings, arriving in November and commencing reading first week in December.

NEW YORK, October 3.—Senor Romero, the Mexican minister, was present this evening at a grand dinner given him by prominent citizens of this city. He made a lengthy address, and in reviewing the past and present of Mexico, recognized the important services of the United States in aiding the triumph of the republican government of Mexico.

LONDON, October 2, 12 m.—No further telegrams relative to the recent disturbances in Italy have been received. Many wild rumors are afloat. It is said Pope Pio Nono's health has broken out at Rome, and the pope was obliged to fly to Civita Vecchia for safety.

The semi-official journal of Florence says that Rome will soon belong to Italy, and that without a broken treaty.

The Italian frigate Regina, of the American navy, arrived in this city yesterday. He was received with marked civilities.

GLASGOW, October 2.—The firm of Buchanan & Co., who were engaged in the American trade, suspended to-day; liabilities not ascertained.

KIND WORDS AT HOME.

It is one of the strange things connected with human nature, that familiarity with those who are tenderly beloved, should beget indifference to their happiness, or at least a want of carefulness in regard to the thousand nameless little things which make up the sum of human happiness. But so it often is. It is not at all uncommon to see those who are all affability and gentleness and kindness to ordinary friends or comparative strangers, reserved or moody, or even harsh and severe toward those to whom they are most nearly related, or with whom they are most intimately associated in the every day affairs of life. There is many a father, there is many a brother, and—alas! that I should write it—there is many a husband, morose and severe in intercourse with those who are "his own," when none but words of love and gentleness should fall from his lips. It is sad to think how many a heart has been made to ache by a cold and to bleed by an unkind word, when it might just as easily have been made happy by an expression of love. It is not the want of love of which I speak, but the want of its expression in words and acts.

It is needless to say that while this is one of the manifestations of human nature, it is an evidence of its fallen state and of its having fallen very low. There is something inhuman, absolutely fiendish in such a temper, when we come to analyze it. Even the brutes express their fondness first of all to their own kin.

But what is strangest of all is, that in so many instances even the gentle, lovely and loving religion of Jesus fails to sweeten the temper and soften the manners of those who have professedly embraced its principles, and who are expected to exemplify in their lives what they have professed. It is a shame, not to christianity, but to some who call themselves christians, that there should be such a thing as a morose christian; one who is unkind or severe to those who are bound to him by sacred ties. It is a sin against the holy spirit of love and meekness. Yet domestic unkindness, and unnecessary severity, or even with coldness, those whose hearts are placed in our own hands as it were. But let my readers answer whether there are not fathers and husbands and brothers who do this every day, and who yet call themselves christians.

One of the first fruits of genuine religion is to awaken in the heart the desire, and impart the principle of promoting the happiness of others; and this is not merely of those in the household hemisphere, but of the dear and loving friends by whom we are immediately surrounded in life. The man out of whom Jesus cast the legion of devils, besought him that he might be permitted to go with him. "Go home to thy friends and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee." To the old proverb, that "charity begins at home," is as old an answer to that which does, or when the plea is made, charity is very apt to end there; but home—the bosom of one's kindred and friends, is beyond all question the place where charity, true love, ought to display itself first, and where its genial influence should shine. It would be a poor commendation of the religion of Christ, if it had no power to soften a disposition that was naturally harsh, or if it did not make an amiable one still more lovely and loving, especially toward those who are immediately under its influence.

Religion never was designed to reach through its subjects those most remote by passing by those who are near at hand. It should show itself not only in efforts to promote the spiritual welfare of our friends but by kind words and kind acts. There is a magic power ever in a gentle tone of voice which may lift a mighty load from some heart that is suffering; there is a mighty power in words of severity and even of coldness, to pierce the same heart with anguish.

Bright and blessed is the example of Jesus in this respect. He went about doing good.

AN ASSASSIN IN PRISON.

The assasin Berezowski, who attempted to kill the Czar, was taken to Toulon on the 11th instant, to serve out his sentence. A letter writer says: As soon as he entered the precincts of the bagne, the gray and yellow dress of a cellular prisoner was taken off, and the red jacket and green cap worn by those condemned for life was put on. The unfortunate young man was then taken to the prison forge—his feet were already swollen and painful from the long march he had just come off. A heavy chain was fastened on his left leg by a massive ring; he did not appear to suffer during the operation, and quickly rose from the recumbent position it, which it is always performed, taking up the chain in his hand, which otherwise drags on the ground. The head was shaved, as is the custom, in squares—that is, one square perfectly bare and on the next the hair is left about half an inch long, in spite of this disfiguring process and the green cap, it was remarked that young Berezowski had a certain look of distinction, and even a gentle, intelligent expression of countenance. One of the lynx-eyed guards who was aware that his fingers had been injured, asked him what was the matter with his hand. "It was the pistol," he replied; "I was cured in three weeks by the application of cold water."

While his ten companions were having their irons riveted on, Berezowski remained quietly in a corner of the forge, and spoke to no one. He will not be chained to another convict, as is usually the case, but will remain in one of the convicts' room chained to a triangle of iron, which is fastened to the camp bed of the prisoners, and through which a bar is slipped, thus preventing their moving beyond the length of their chain. In a month, unless the wretched young man first turns mad, he is to be sent to New Caledonia.

Emigration to Tennessee.

The Nashville Times hears it reported that a company of Pennsylvania capitalists have bought about forty thousand acres of valuable iron lands in Hickman and adjoining counties, and are making preparations to manufacture railroad iron, spikes, chains and articles of hollow ware. They have a charter to construct a railroad to Clarksville and Corinth.

Yellow Fever.

In 1853, New Orleans had a population of one hundred and twenty thousand, and 27,143 cases of yellow fever, of which about one-third terminated fatally. The present epidemic is very much milder, and the mortality, proportionately, only one-tenth as heavy. The death rate now, however, among children between the ages of ten and fifteen, is remarkably large.

UNBLUSHING EFFRONTERY.

The following are a part of the resolutions adopted by the Radical State Convention of New York. There is almost sublimity in their impudence and mendacity:

"Resolved, That the republican party has not hesitated fearlessly to search out corruption and misgovernment, frankly to expose them, and manfully to grapple with them, so it now declares its purpose to continue the work of reform which it has inaugurated; that it will steadily fight corruptions, and even hold them its enemies; that it will wage war against them until corruption and maladministration are rooted out and destroyed, and that we will see to it, at all hazards, that the interests of the state are committed to public servants of integrity, untainted by any of the fraudulent maxims and practices of that party whose fear to grapple with corruption first brought upon it the contempt of the people.

"Resolved, That while all measures of minor reform and for the amelioration of society are entitled to and should receive the earnest consideration of every republican; and while all the history of the party shows it the only true friend of such measures, we do inscribe upon our banners simply and solely these watchwords: 'National reconstruction through liberty and justice. State repose through integrity and economy.'

"Resolved, That our efforts shall be directed to promote thorough economy in the administration, state and national; to establish fairness and equality in bearing the public burdens; that under no circumstance shall the credit of the nation or state be injured by wrongful tampering with public obligations, and that the name of the republic shall never be dishonored by the slightest deviation from the path of financial integrity."

ROSCOE CONKLING, once a HENRY CLAY Whig, and superlatively devoted to the maintainance of what were claimed to be the conservative and constitutional principles of that great party,—ROSCOE CONKLING, Senator elect from the State of New York, was made President of the Convention. On taking the chair he pronounced an address whose shameless and unblushing effrontery and contempt of the truth of history exceed any thing we have ever read.

The New York Herald says of this deluge of mendacity:

Mr. Roscoe Conkling has odd ideas of the republican party. He says it was "born of the emergencies of a portentous hour" about ten years ago; that it had no platform to invent, being already "inspired;" that it was "instinct with progress;" that it came into existence six years ago; that "in 1861 it acceded to what was once the government of the United States," which it found in a dilapidated condition, and which it forthwith proceeded to "save." This is an pretty a piece of history as the story of Seven Swabians, or Jack the Giant Killer, and just as true. The republican party came into existence on the "higher law" and "irrepressible conflict" tumult. It had its first success in the first election of Mr. Lincoln, and its last, for that event gave rise to the war. There was an end to parties. The people rose up and put the parties to one side, and saved the nation without respect to party lines. Men of all parties were equally in earnest. Republicans held office, and democrats too—only there was a distinction here: republicans became provost marshals and managed the draft, or revenue collectors and stole the money, while the democrats went into the army. There is not a single great soldier of the country, there never was a corps commander in the army of the Potomac, who was not a democrat before the war. This is the way the republican party saved the country.

The following extract from the speech itself will enable our readers to judge of the fairness of these comments:

Of the Republican party he said:

It was a party of ideas, not of privilege for a few, but of human rights for all. That it should have gained ascendancy almost at once was as natural as the heaving of the tides or the action of human instinct. Majorities alone could give it ascendancy, and free majorities are sure to be on the side of human nature. But popular success is only an opportunity. Before a party deserves lasting confidence it must do more than triumph in elections. It must manifest genius for administration and capacity for government equal to the occasion it accepts. It is by this rule that the country will try the republican union organization, in measuring its deserts in the past and its hopes for the future. Its test is six years. In 1861 it acceded to what had once been the government of the United States. The public was almost extinct; the treasury was bankrupt; the army was surrendered; the navy was scattered in distant seas; the union was in form dissolved; traitors sat in the cabinet and in congress; a traitor presided in the senate; a dupe of traitors held the presidential chair; disaffectation was everywhere and half a conflict was in revolt. Such a predicament had never been known in the experience of nations. Was restoration possible? The kings of the cabinets of christendom said no! Had it the

WANTED—THE PATENT
AURORA OIL.
We want men everywhere to study their own INTEREST. The right to manufacture and sell the Patent Aurora Oil in a single county will make more money to the purchaser in three months than the largest farm in your State will make in a whole year. The Aurora Oil actually costs less than one-half the price of Coal Oil, and the illuminating power of the Aurora Oil is as much superior to the Coal Oil as the Coal Oil is to a tallow candle, and is no more explosive than a tallow candle. Any Lamp that will burn Coal Oil will burn the Aurora Oil. It does not smoke the chimney—it does not smell—it will not grease or stain the finest linen—not even white cloth. The material for its manufacture is inexhaustible, and one man can make seventy-five barrels per day. No machinery required. We will pay your fare to and from the city of Memphis and bills while here, if we cannot prove all, and even more, than we have stated. A single county is a small fortune to the man of enterprise, and the right to a State is untold worth.

EMMONS & SON, No. 10 Jefferson street and 393 Main street, have received the New York Ledger, Literary Album, Chimney Corner, Boston Pilot, Banner of Light, Waverly Magazine, LaCrosse Democrat, and all the magazines for October, and dailies from everywhere; also London Art Journal.

PLANING MILL.—We beg to call attention of our builders to the card of the Southern planing mill, to be found in another column. The proprietor, Mr. Heath, is a gentleman well known in our business circles, as fulfilling all contracts into which he may enter, and doing his work up in a masterly manner. Give the Southern planing mill a call.

INQUESTS.—Coroner Cotton held three inquests yesterday, the first two upon the bodies of Mat. Bankhead and Alfred Baker, colored, which the jury found died from natural causes; the third on the body of an unknown white man found drowned near the foot of Beal street. The usual verdict was rendered and an order given for interment.

COMMITTED.—The burglar Jim Richards, who was arrested by the police a day or two since, on the supposition that the bail in his case—wherein he was charged with robbing Lyon, Fies & Co.—was not sufficient, was before Mr. Justice Hall yesterday, and committed for trial at the criminal court, without bail. So much for straw!

STEALING MONEY.—A chocolate colored female named Frances Mitchell complained to Mr. Justice Miller yesterday that her room-mate, Ella Harris, another sister of Ham, had stolen from the complainant a sum of money. A warrant was issued and the accused furnished quarters at the county hotel on Adams street. The 'squire will give her a hearing to-day.

RECOVERING.—Officer Shoke, of the Metropolitan police force, who was cut by a prisoner named Dan Driscoll on Wednesday night at the stationhouse on Adams street, is getting somewhat better and strong. Hopes are entertained of his recovery. He is being nursed by his comrades. In the meantime Driscoll is kept in close confinement.

AT A REGULAR MEETING of Bluff City division No. 11, Sons of Temperance, held at their hall Wednesday evening, October 2d, the following gentlemen were installed as officers for the ensuing quarter: J. W. Dashiel, W. P.; E. F. Price, W. A.; R. S., J. J. Weller; A. R. S., F. M. Haley; F. S., L. W. Littlejohn; treasurer, Dr. P. G. S. Grasty; chaplain, G. C. Price; Con., W. W. Hodge; A. C., Charley Price; I. S. R. M. Tuttle; O. S., J. C. Eyrich; Dr. F. L. Sim, P. W. P.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY.—It is not much to be wondered at that many petty robberies are committed under the cover of night, but when daylight robberies are committed, the people are not a little amazed. Some enterprising thief broke open the tool chest of Mr. Samuel Frust, in Hickman alley, opposite the Overton hotel, yesterday, and stole therefrom several articles of clothing and some jewelry. The loser was a gas fitter. He made complaint to the police, but up to a late hour no arrests were made.

TILL TAPPING.—An enterprising young black mackerel, named Tom. Jackson, was arrested yesterday, charged with robbing the till of Mr. W. Tyndall, on Poplar street. Every day occurrences but demonstrate the fact that the young thieves in and about the city are becoming more bold daily. When shall we have a house of correction or place of refuge for these waifs, both white and black, who at present are not only pests to society, but seem to be industriously educating themselves for the gallows? Whose fault is it?

SLANDER.—Some days since a case came up before the recorder, relative to a difficulty between some neighbors who reside on Overton street, way up in "Pinch." Tim Keogh and his wife made certain statements, which Mrs. Bridget Connors denounced, accusing the parties of swearing falsely. A warrant was issued by Justice Miller on complaint of Mr. Keogh, when the accused was brought up and fined five dollars with costs. She preferred going to jail rather than pay the amount, and she went accordin'.

ATTEMPT AT MURDER.—A well known planter from Brownsville, Tennessee, was met on Court street about ten o'clock on Wednesday night, by two negroes, who not only beat him, but finding that he resisted their attacks, fired two shots, one taking effect in the right breast, the other in the back of the head, which rendered the victim insensible, while the robbers succeeded in robbing him of all the money he had on his person, which only amounted to about sixty dollars. A passer-by finding him in this state, called a physician, who dressed the wounds, and the victim proceeded to his home yesterday. Truly it is difficult to know when one is safe in the streets of Memphis.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION.—We publish this morning the following programme of the organization and objects of the Howard Association. Prominent among the characteristics of Memphis in the large proportion of transient persons in its population, and at all seasons of the year, in cases of sickness, there are calls upon the humane and charitable in their behalf. That these calls may be met intelligently and systematically, is the object of the Howard Association, and we are gratified in being able to state that it has met the unqualified approval of clergymen and physicians, several of the latter pledging their co-operation and professional services. We trust that it will also meet the approval and sympathy of the community generally, and that a sufficient number may join the association to enable it to grapple with any emergency. The object of the organization may be stated as follows: The names of the gentlemen attached is a guarantee that it will be pushed forward to a successful issue. Impressed with the importance of an association to provide nurses and necessaries for those who may be taken sick amongst us, without means and without friends, the subscribers propose to form an organization, to be known as the Howard Association of Memphis. The association will comprise active and honorary members. The active members to contribute their time and labor in attendance upon the sick, under the direction of the proper officers of the association; the honorary members of those who shall contribute not less than ten dollars previous to enrolling their names, and annually thereafter during the existence of the organization; and also of such others as may be declared worthy of the distinction by a vote of two-thirds of the members present. The qualifications for active membership are temperate habits and a good moral character.

BURGLARY.—The residence of Mr. Chas. Walsh, corner of Fourth and Adams streets, was entered yesterday morning, about three o'clock, when a quantity of clothing, and currency amounting to about eight dollars, were stolen. The thieves got off with the "swag." Later intelligence assures us that two servants were arrested—a part of the stolen property being found on their persons.

MESSRS. PARTEE, MCGEHEE & Co., the cotton factors and commission merchants of Memphis, have made ample arrangements for the opening of the fall trade, and are anticipating a large influx of cotton within a few weeks. This firm have located in the new Cooper block, No. 7 Monroe street, and are prepared to do a cotton factorage and general commission business, and to make liberal advances on all consignments. They are experienced dealers and reliable gentlemen.

RELIGIOUS.—There will be divine service in the Chelsea Baptist church tonight, beginning at 7½ o'clock, and the services will be deeply interesting and impressive. Mr. Spencer C. Rogers, of the firm of Graves, Jones & Co., is to be ordained to the office of deacon in said church. The order of exercises will be as follows: Sermon by Rev. T. H. Ford; examination of the deacon elect by Rev. A. B. Miller; prayer and imposition of hands by the presbytery; charge to the deacon and the church by Rev. J. R. Graves. All interested are invited to be present.

IN OUR notice of the election of Col. John Heart to the position of secretary of the chamber of commerce, a typographical error occurred, which we are unable to account for. But so it was, the name of our respected friend, well known as a journalist in Washington city, Charleston and Memphis, and as former superintendent of public printing at Washington city, was misprinted "John T. Hart." The name was misspelled, and a "T" inserted, which did not belong there. Such, however, is the common fate of those who have spent a lifetime in useful and honorable service to the country. A typographical error may leave the record of their acts incomplete.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—The attendance at the New Memphis theater last night was slim. Miss. Boyd appeared in the character of the "Countess" to good advantage, Mrs. Allen playing "Catharine" in a manner alike creditable to her and acceptable to the audience. The "Huon" of Frank Roche was good and correct, he delineating the lover not only honorably but very pathetically. This gentleman is careful both in his reading and acting. Although times may look blue at present, he is destined to become an immense favorite with the play-goers of the Bluff City. Mr. Anderson is a good old man, and never fails to make a hit. The minor characters were well filled. The grand benefit tendered to Miss Belle Boyd, will come off to-night, the fair beneficiare playing "Arrah Meelish," and Mr. Frank Roche "Shaum the Post," in Arrah na Pogue. From the names appended to the requisition, it is fair to suppose the house will be filled from pit to dome. We hope it may be so; not only the efforts of Miss Boyd, but the enterprise of the manager of the New Memphis, deserve such a return.

SYNOD OF NASHVILLE.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

This body met in the city of Nashville on the 26th of September, and organized by electing Rev. W. E. Caldwell moderator. A few facts developed at that meeting will interest many of your readers: That the church in East Tennessee is fast getting back to the liberty of speech and conscience it once had. Much moral courage and christian fortitude has been manifest by those who think that man may worship God "according to the dictates of his own conscience." The bayonet has been used to try and silence our ministers, but they have faced them with such boldness that the wild, fanatic spirit of that region is fast giving way to moderations and toleration, and new reports come in encouraging to every one interested in the church. Then the Synod took very decided action in reference to Stewart college at the city of Clarksville. A schemis now on foot to raise money to repaie the buildings, and the endowment funr will enable the Synod to go forward imd mediately, so that in two years we hope to see this college in successful operation. It is the most practicable point now spoken of. We have good buildings, needing repairs; what endowment fund we have is good and bearing a good income. Then the Synod desires to assure the people of Tennessee that we look forward to the time when we can say that we are proud of our own college. Rev. H. B. Bonde and D. N. Kennedy, Esq., have been intrusted with the best way to bring this matter to the notice of the people.

After a pleasant session the Synod adjourned to meet in Rogersville next year.

SECOND DRAWING
—OF THE—
Southern Asylum
LAND COMPANY,
TO TAKE PLACE AT HERNANDO, MISS.,
AUGUST, 1867.

THE First Drawing, which took place at Hernando, Miss., on the 15th inst., was attended with unusual interest. It is remembered that but a few weeks elapsed from the inception of the enterprise to that event. $17,500 worth of tickets having been sold, a like amount of property was drawn for, under the supervision of experienced gentlemen by the ticket holders present. The utmost harmony and good feeling pervaded those present, and, as will be seen by the subjoined certificate of the Managers, the affair was conducted to a close in a most gratifying and satisfactory manner:

HERNANDO, MISS., June 15, 1867.

We hereby certify that the above report of the First Drawing of the Southern Asylum is correct, and that the proceedings were characterized by aspirit of fairness and justness unsurpassed by any Drawing of which we have any knowledge. The Managers of the Company placed the tickets and wheels under our sole management and control.

Signed: J. E. MORGAN,
ROBERT TEMPLE,
V. A. MERRIWETHER,
W. M. THOMPSON,
M. MAGEVENY,
JOHN AINSLIE,
J. M. HALL, Clerk.

The Prizes drawn on this occasion numbered Forty-seven, and comprised lo sin the vicinity of Mobile, Montgomery, Corinth, Miss., and Hernando, Miss., deeds to which have been made to the lucky ticket-holders. MEMPHIS APPEAL

IMPLORA PACE—BY M. E. M.

From the Norfolk Journal.]

Implora pace! This and nothing more,
Sweet friend in Heaven, we dare to ask of thee,
On other heads the wine of gladness pour—
The holy oil of peace our chrism shall be!

Implora pace! Suffering Son of God,
Once from pale lips of thine the cry was rent—
"Eloi! Eloi! lama sabacthani,"
While o'er thy cross the pitying heavens were bent!

Implora pace! As we toil along,
Weary and worn, and panting on the way,
Forth from our souls too oft there comes no song,
But only tears and moans bewail the day.

Implora pace! Dost thou bid us wait?
First patience—milk white flower—and then the fruit,
Low bending, purple flushed, and wondrous sweet,
The perfect bloom that springs from sorrow's root?

Dost bid us toil, and leave the rest to thee?
Dost bid us plant, and wait for thine increase?
Nor weakly falter in the dreary day,
Crying, like children, till thou give us peace.

No! so, dear Saviour, is our spirit's word!
But ah, alas! the flesh is very weak
Come, blessed One, come! Do not tarry, Lord,
And to our souls thy consolation speak.

Implora pace! Not the foaming cup
That glitters in the morning sunlight, first
We'll quaff the dregs of grief, still looking up,
If but a drop of peace, baptize us first.

Implora pace! Not as gives the world,
But as thou givest to those whom thy breast Shield'st, while plants are to rum hurled,
And taste the fulness of thy perfect rest.

Implora pace! both life and death,
And after death, in that fair world to come—
Thine soon be ours, this crown of grace and faith,
Implora pace! in the heavenly home!

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, October 3, 1867.

The New York gold market opened at 44⅝ and closed at 45⅜—in this market 42¾ to 43c per pkd.

Silver is scarce at 31 to 33c.

Exchange is easier; buying at par for choice bank bills and ⅛ to ¼ off on cotton bills; selling at ¼ to ⅜ premium.

City scrip is weaker; 49 to 50c is the buying rate; selling at 51c.

County warrants are in but moderate demand; buying at 80 to 82c and selling at 83 to 85c.

Police scrip is weak at 80c, buying; selling at 85c.

Messrs. Julian & Co., bankers, of Louisville, failed on Tuesday.

A correspondent of the Ohio Statesman advocates the payment of bondsin greenbacks. The Statesman says the writer is himself a bondholder, and he shows that upon his $20,000 in bonds, which he originally bought him but $7000, he draws twelve hundred dollars per annum in gold, amounting on the original investment to eighteen per cent. per annum, worth, at the last quotation, 30½ per cent. more than currency. If the $20,000 which Mr. Young holds in bonds were now paid in gold, and the gold sold at current rates for greenbacks, his investment of $7000 at the commencement of the war, in addition to the large interest he has drawn semi annually, would net him twenty-six thousand one hundred dollars, or over nineteen thousand dollars, besides a high interest for the loan of seven thousand for six years!—all of which has to come from the pockets of the people in the shape of internal revenue taxes, which, it is said, eats in fees of assessors and collectors, fifty cents on the dollar to collect.

The Des Arc exchange says: The citizens of Prairie county have determined to have an agricultural fair in October, and all honor to them for it. Nothing advances the interests of society or so conduces to the growth of a country as the encouragement of agriculture. The time is now when this science should become to all a study, and to this end societies should be organized in every county, and all possible encouragement given them. The Prairie county society have selected Des Arc as the point at which the fair shall be held this fall, this place having subscribed most liberally to the enterprise, as will be seen from the proceedings of the last meeting. It is true a magnificent display cannot be expected, as the time is too short for much preparation. But still a good and profitable entertainment can no bad if the people will enter into it with the proper spirit. It is to be hoped the citizens of Prairie county will take hold of this enterprise with a good will, and this year lay the foundation for the permanent establishment of an institution that will so greatly benefit the people and improve the country.

The Leavenworth Commercial has the following information in reference to crops in the west and northwest, which, while it may be found a little exaggerated, will still furnish an indication of the true condition of the growing crops, as well as the extent of the long prevailing drought in the Mississippi valley. It says:

An old resident of Leavenworth, who has just returned from a visit through Missouri, Northern Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Canada, Western New York and Ohio, informs us that the corn crop is almost a failure 15 counties portions of the country he traveled over. But little good corn was seen until he reached Platte county. The drouth has been very severe in Northern Ohio—worse than it was in Kansas in 1865. There will not be over one-third of a crop of corn, and but few late potatoes will be dug. The last rain fell on the 4th of July. Since that time the sun has dried up vegetation at a fearful rate. In many places on the line of the railroads, fires have been set. Lives have set the ground on fire, and much good soil has been consumed. On the Cleveland and Toledo road the fences are burned in hundreds of places. Farmers are obliged to keep a sharp look out to prevent their fences, grain and buildings will be destroyed. The like has not been known but once in thirty years. In some places the trees are dying for lack of moisture, and leaves are dropping off before the frost comes. The fruit crop, however, will be immense. Apples in the form of grapes, and a good quantity of peaches and apples. The early potato crop was good.

In Canada the corn crop was short. There seemed to be a fair crop of apples, grapes and other fruits. The same remarks will apply to Western New York.

In Michigan the corn looked much better than in Ohio or Canada. Our informant says he never saw trees heavier loaded with apples, and of such fine quality. The wheat, hay and clover crops were good.

In Illinois, on the C. B. & Q. railroad, corn and vegetables were rolling well. In many places there will be two-thirds of a crop of corn. The potato bugs gobbled nearly all the potatoes. There will be a full crop of apples and other fruits.

The heaviest crops are to be found in North Missouri.

There was not much act vity displayed to-day on the streets. Prices are well sustained. Choice spring wheat is in demand at $1 75 to 1 80. Corn scarce and selling in small lots at $1 25 to 1 30; car corn is in demand at 80 to 85c. Oats are dull at 70c. Hay scarce but in light demand at $25 to 30. Bran firm at $20. Our market under the better feeling at the close last evening, opened stiffer this morning, and sales were better by ½c than they were on Wednesday evening. Middling changed hands at 18½ to 19c, but the opening New York dispatches which quoted that market dull with a downward tendency, with uplands nominal at 21½c and Orleans 22½c, caused a settling down here, and during the remainder of the day sales were made at a decline of ½c on the opening rates. Holders have seemingly lost all faith and are urgent to sell. For closing New York dispatches show more depression, with a dull market; uplands 21 to 21½c; Mobile 22c; Orleans 22½c. The sales just to-day were large; and have equal ed the receipts. We quote the market active and drooping.

Richmond Washington Monument.

The Richmond Dispatch of the 25th ult., speaking of the Washington monument in Capitol square of that city, says: The statues of Nelson and Lewis, which have been lying at the base of the monument for some time past, will be elevated to the pedestals appropriated for them to-day. There will be no ceremony, so far as we can learn. The statues will be simply uncased and placed in position. As they are very massive, weighing some four or five tons each, the task of placing them in position will be one of considerable magnitude. Workmen were busily engaged yesterday afternoon making the necessary preparations, and the undertaking will no doubt be accomplished to-day.

English Sam. Patch.

Professor Worthington, a young man, is making "sensations" in London. He takes terrific plunges from the head of Chain Pier, jumping 180 feet into the Thames. He has thus amusing the pleasure seekers at Brighton this summer by jumping, in the presence of 20,000 spectators, a distance of 200 feet. Arrangements are being made with the Crystal Palace company for him to dive from the water tower into the large reservoir behind it.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

Yesterday was one of the most sultry days of the season. During a short time rain was looked for, but it remains dry, hot and oppressive. There is no change of any kind to report in the river from here to Cairo. At Louisville the Ohio is rising slowly, with an increase of one inch in the canal; but our midnight dispatches will no doubt record a further swell. This rise, however, like the one in the upper Mississippi will be but a momentary affair. At Keokuk the late rise has subsided, and is falling. It is also falling at St. Louis. The Arkansas has not changed since our last.
